Joins Hospital Board Working More Efficiency

Dr. Samuel G. Gex, a prominent physician, has joined the board of directors of the Bay St. Louis Hospital, a move which is expected to bring about a more efficient administration.

Dr. Gex, who has been practicing medicine in Bay St. Louis for many years, was elected to the board at a meeting held last week.

He is expected to bring with him a wealth of experience and knowledge which will be of great value to the hospital.

Dr. Gex is a member of the American Medical Association and has been active in many of its committees.

He is also a member of the local chapter of the United Medical and Pharmaceutical Society.

Dr. Gex is a graduate of the University of Mississippi and has been practicing medicine in Bay St. Louis since 1925.

Board Purchases Land For National Guard

The Board of Supervisors purchased a five and a half acre site for the proposed National Guard armory.

The land, which belonged to Henry Chapman, adjoins the local airport strip.

The county will lease the site to the State, who will in turn lease it to the Federal Government.

Chester Fayard Killed By Train

Funeral services were held Saturday for Chester Fayard, who was killed Thursday night when struck by a train at Pass Christian.

Fayard, who was a carpenter, was alone at the time and his family stated they had heard nothing of the details of the accident.

The deceased was in his forties. He was a native of Ponton, Miss., and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Fayard.

Surviving are three sisters: Ora Lafontaine of Pass Christian and Mrs. Roland Lafontaine of this city; and three brothers: Xavier and Larry Fayard of Newark, N. J., and Claiborne Fayard of Bay St. Louis.

Burial was in Cedar Rest.

Investigate Mosquito Problem

Representative Walter Phillips of Hancock County reported this week that Washington officials are giving attention to the mosquito problem which has made door-to-door a hazard.

A letter received by the state representative from Mississippi's William Colmer stated:

"In an effort to find out whether there may be some federal funds for such control work, I have taken this problem up with the Public Health Service authorities. ETET service authorities here and we will give you a report just as soon as I receive one from that agency."

Phillips wrote to Washington last week to inquire whether or not the government could spray the Louisiana swampland and try to control the mosquito influx. It was pointed out at the time that the federal government had done this once during the war, with good results.

Minister Says Constable Dean Is Officer Who Has Threatened Him

MONSIGNOR MCCARTHY—Edward McCarthy, president of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine and deputy grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, is shown as he welcomes Monsignor Michael McCarthy to Bay St. Louis. Monsignor McCarthy is the new pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

MONSIGNOR MCCARTHY HONORED AT PUBLIC RECEPTION SUNDAY

A public reception was held for Monsignor Michael J. McCarthy, newly appointed pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church, Sunday night at the St. Joseph Academy auditorium.

Father Hugh Taylor acted as master of ceremonies and also gave the welcoming talk. Other speakers were Mayor John Scaffie, Court Clerk A. C. Mitchell, Rev. Robert Pung of St. Augustine's Seminary, Rev. John Taylor of Our Lady of the Snows, Bro. Linus of St. Stanislaus, Rev. Charles Johnson representing other churches and Mother Anna Mary of St. Joseph's Academy.

Rev. J. C. Renfroe of the Logtown Baptist Church today named Beat One Constable Harlan Dean as the man who had warned him to "lay off" the Pines gambling casino on Highway 90 in Pearlinton.

Renfroe said, "Dean visited me shortly after I had circulated a petition expressing our thanks to Governor White for closing the gambling place down back when he did."

"He told me that the club was being run by the Chicago mob and that it would be better if I would lay off. He said I was fighting a big thing and that he didn't want to see me get hurt."

"Dean reached at his home, denied everything that Rev. Renfroe had stated. He said, 'I have never threatened Brother Renfroe. I did talk to him about the petition he had circulated but only to tell him that I didn't think he should put in there that the local police officials had refused to anything about the situation. He had that included in his petition to the Governor.'

"I asked him if he had ever contacted me about the place and he said no. I also asked him if he had ever contacted the Sheriff on the matter and he answered no."

Rev. Renfroe stated, "I am not fighting a personality battle. It is a fight of principles. I am not fighting any individual whatsoever. We want to do things the right way. Constable Dean told me that because of my fight against the Pine I was being hated in the community. I do not believe that. We had at least 400 names on our petition."

In a rebuttal against Rev. Renfroe's statements Dean said, "Brother Renfroe came to see me last week about going fishing with me. If I had threatened him I don't think he would have come and asked me that. I regarded Brother Renfroe as my friend but I also said that anything he has said about me warning and threatening him are lies."

Yesterday morning a committee of three Protestant ministers from Harrison County were appointed by the Protestant's Ministerial Alliance that had been formed to fight gambling on the Gulf Coast, visited with Circuit Judge Leslie Grant.

One member of this committee, Doctor Ray Summers of the Gulfport Presbyterian Church said, "We met with Judge Grant and he was very co-operative and very willing to hear us."

Rev. Schuyler Batson of Bay St. Louis said, "I feel that we did the right thing by sending the committee that we appointed to talk with Judge Leslie Grant with regards to the gambling situation."

Three Candidates Pull Out Of Summer's Race

Three candidates requested this week that their names be withdrawn from the ballot of the August 2 Democratic Primary. The requests were all accepted by the Hancock County Executive Committee.

The candidates were C. E. Martin, who had qualified for the office of Supervisor in Beat One; C. C. (Cy) Cuevas, who had qualified for the office of Supervisor in Beat Four and Manuel Pullman, who had entered the race for Constable in Beat One.

It was unanimously agreed by the committee that the names be omitted from the ballot.

ATTORNEY GENERAL TELLS BOARD IT CANNOT HIRE EXTRA MEN

The attorney general's office has ruled that the Board of Supervisors cannot declare an emergency and hire extra men to finish repairs on the seawall road at Waveland.

The seawall work halted several weeks ago, and Waveland people complained.

Manny Hubbard, supervisor for the beat involved, said he was in favor of completing the repair work, but that he had no control in the matter.

Formerly he directed the work. But two years ago, at the time of the wood preservation investigation, which Hubbard instigated, the board stripped him of control.

"They fired my foreman and his crew. I couldn't stop them," Hubbard said.

No reason was given for halting the work. There is no record of the work stoppage on the board's minutes.

However, the board did halt the work and created a dangerous hazard. It was after complaints that it tried to get extra men for the job.

But the attorney general ruled against it.

McCarty Wins Fight To Get On Ballot In August Primary

With the aid of Attorney Joel Blass of Wiggins, Kenneth McCarty overcame the barrier of a new law passed by the legislature and this week was ruled eligible to run for County Superintendent of Education in the August primary.

The State ruled that, according to the new law passed by the Legislature concerning the educational background needs for the office, McCarty was ineligible to seek the position.

But McCarty wouldn't accept this as the final word. He believed he was eligible. So he hired Joel Blass of Wiggins, a young attorney, who is also a member of the Legislature. Blass and McCarty went before the Hancock County Democratic Committee and presented their case.

Blass brought forth a ruling of a Chancery Court judge on the same situation in another county. He showed step by step where the judge ruled the law was unconstitutional and ordered that it be ignored by the Executive Committee.

Blass said, "This is the only ruling on a case like this in the State of Mississippi. The ruling wasn't appealed so we take it for granted that it was accepted without any criticism."

"The judge ruled that the law was unconstitutional, null and void. He stated that the Legislature did not have the power to give the State Department of Education the right to make such a ruling."

Cast Announced For New Play

The players in "Seven Keys to Baldpate," next production of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre were announced this week.

Directing is the team of Kenney and Bea Smith and the show will be given on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 23, 24 and 25.

The stellar cast in rehearsal is doing a professional job in diverse and surprise roles. Among Little Theatre favorites are Mark Solomon as "Maggie," a novelist; Max Languland as "Bland," a tough right hand man for a millionaire; Don McCulloch, the crooked Mayor; Rev. Charles R. Johnson, the mayor's man Friday and Roland Weston, a small town Chief of Police.

Russell Chapman appears as the president of a suburban railroad; Dr. Walter Russo, the caretaker of Baldpate Inn, and Katherine O'Neal, the caretaker's gabby wife. Mildred Hamilton, as Mary Norton, a newspaper reporter; Betty Rose, as Mrs. Rhodes, a charming widow and Jane Wiggins as Myra Thornhill, a blackmailer, provide romance and greatly enhance the comedy situations.

Dr. Charles Wascom, as the Hermit and Leo Seal, Jr., as the owner of Baldpate Inn round out the cast.

The general public is welcome at any performance. Tickets can be purchased at the theatre door. Admission, $1.25 and the curtain is at 8:15 p. m.

Funeral Services For L. Luderbach

Funeral services were held at the Christ Episcopal Church today for Louis Fred Luderbach of St. Charles St.

He died Tuesday in Bay St. Louis. He is survived by a stepson, Capt. Keith Thrash and a stepdaughter, Valery Jean Thrash and Mrs. Collis Lyle, Jr. Interment was at Metairie Cemetery in New Orleans.

Library Seeks Mystery Donor

The library here has a mysterious donor and librarians are looking for him or her.

About $200 worth of books were found at the front door. No one knows who left them.

"We'd like to thank the donor," Miss Louise Crawford said.

New Warning Signs For Highway

At the instigation of the League of Women Voters, the highway department will place "Signal Ahead" signs appronching the stop light at the Bay St. Louis Bridge. It was announced this week.

Jack W. Chambliss, assistant traffic control engineer, rejected the idea of additional stop lights on the highway but agreed that some sort of additional warning signs and will come.

Bay On Alert For 27 Hours

Bay St. Louis is in the process of participating in a civil defense alert which began on Thursday night and will continue for 27 hours.

SMITH ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION AS HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER

With a sincere desire to continue my services with the State Highway Department, I announce my candidacy for re-election to the office of the Highway Commissioner.

The road problem has become so glaring, so urgent and so important to our economic progress that it has aroused public sentiment to a need for continued improvements. Safety and more adequate highway facilities are a national necessity.

The task is to provide adequate and safe highways for 55,589,000 motor vehicles now on the highway. I humbly submit that my experience and knowledge of the problem will be helpful in the proper solution of the problem. This is not the time to train a new man for this important responsibility.

There is no substitute for experience. Experience, like seniority and respect, is something which cannot be bought. Neither can it be won by the forces of chance.

Experience must be earned and developed with time. And the longer it grows, the more valuable it becomes.

Nothing can take the place of the sound wisdom and mature judgment gained through years of faithful and honest application of effort.

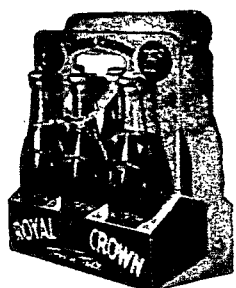

Nothing can take the place of the prestige and accumulation of knowledge which comes to a man after years of conscientious devotion to duty.

I have been honored by my fellow Commissioners with the chairmanship of the Commission. An investigation of my record of service will disclose that I have striven to merit the confidence they have placed in me.

While presiding over our Highway Commission meetings, I have tried to do so efficiently with courtesy and in fairness. When you have given due consideration to my efforts to serve you, and you honor me with re-election you can depend upon me to continue to give you an honest and efficient administration.

IMPORTANT IN MISSISSIPPI

What is it?

Clock Tower is a landmark of Mississippi State Capitol. Founded in 1847, this became the first state supported women's college in the United States.

there's no doubt about the importance of the brewing industry in Mississippi. Whiskey and rum have a $29 million investment here... employing over 14,295 Mississippians... and the brewing industry is the fourth largest taxpayer in the state, paying over $4 million a year. Legally regulated beer, the beverage of moderation, has grown to its present importance in Mississippi through public compliance.

MISSISSIPPI DIVISION

UNITED STATES BREWERS FOUNDATION
200 Madison Building - Jackson, Mississippi

tion of the affairs of your State Highway Department.

Our highways have become very important to us. Our way of life depends upon the swift and economical movement of good and people from place to place. Until the war clouds disappear, this swift and economical transportation would mean the survival of our country. Lack of it could mean total destruction. Over our highways are carried in vast amounts all of the things which are essential to human living—food, shelter and clothing.

The progress we have made during the past five years in the development of our highway system has been phenomenal. Our rating is near the top in comparison with the other states of the country. During this period in the Southern District we have constructed and paved 883 miles of new roads. We have repaired and re-surfaced 513 miles of old roads. We have re-built and paved 61 miles of old worn out two-lane highways with new two-lane highways. We have rebuilt and paved 18 miles of old worn out two-lane highways with new four-lane highways. We have under construction this year 200 miles of new roads, we are paving this year 65 miles new roads. At the end of this year we will have a total of 2315 miles of paved highways in the Southern District.

If you will continue to allow me to serve you in this important position, I will devote my entire time and effort to the problem of building and maintaining highways and bridges that will be a credit to our state and will adequately serve the highway users.

We have a very fine and far-sighted highways program at this time. I have had a part in securing this program which enables your Highway Department to construct new highways every year. I covet the privilege and the honor of being allowed to continue the work we have underway.

Our federal government in Washington is now planning the largest highway program that has ever been launched in the history of our government. We are confident that it will pass the Congress before the end of the year. The knowledge I have gained through these years of earnest, prayerful study, observation and experience will enable me to render the greatest possible service to the people of the Southern District of our wonderful State of Mississippi.

Your Highway Department is now being operated on an economical basis. It is our policy to strive to get a dollars value for every dollar we spend. We invite you to visit with us, and we especially urge you to check with our State Auditor and the Investigating Committee of the Legislature as they audit and investigate our Department annually.

I feel sure that you will not want to make a mistake in the selection of your Highway Commissioner.

Look carefully into our education, training, experience, integrity, character, and reputation before you cast your vote.

I have served you honorably, efficiently, and faithfully. I want to continue this type of service; and it is with this ambition in my mind and heart that I ask for your vote and influence and continued cooperation in making the highway system of Mississippi second to none in our great country.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN D. SMITH.

ED P. ORTTE ANSWERS A $64 QUESTION

In all my talks and previous written statements, I have tried to make it clear to the voters of my County that I am seeking election to the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County. I am on the basis of my record of public service, as a tried and proven successful County official, as evidenced by my 12 years of serving you as a member of the Board of Supervisors.

However, a number of my opponents have mentioned their military service record as part of their qualifications and while I want it distinctly understood that I do not feel that a military service record alone qualifies one to hold public office, yet on the other hand, since a number of my friends have inquired as to why I have not made a statement as to my own record of military service, I feel that in all fairness I should make it known.

In 1915, when many European countries were at war, and it was thought by all that the United States would most certainly become involved, nine college students, of whom I was one, organized a troop of Cavalry of the National Guard of Louisiana, this volunteer troop being made up mostly of Jesuit, Loyola and Tulane students. We rented a barracks on Poydras Street, in New Orleans, paid our own expenses, drilled, and went through all regular military training without any compensation from the United States Government. We prepared our unit for service, in the event our government entered the war, and continued this preparation for more than a year. In order to meet our expenses, we put on shows at the old Dauphin Theatre in New Orleans, and in the summer of 1916, we were

Registration For K. C. Ping Pong Tourney June 21

Registration for the Knights of Columbus Ping Pong Tourney will be held Tuesday, June 21 at the council hall on Main Street from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m.

This tourney is restricted to boys from the age of 12 to 17, with the contestants being divided into two age groups. The first division will be for ages 12-14 and the second group up will be for boys 14-17 years of age.

There will be both singles and doubles matches, with the winner and runnerup in both brackets receiving trophies.

Each contestant will be judged by two members of the Knights of Columbus. Before each game the judges will review all of the rules with the players.

Jake Morreale, chairman of the K. C. committee promoting this tournament, said, "We hope this tournament will be very successful, for we want to make it an annual affair. We hope that anyone in the age classifications set up in rules, who is interested in playing in the tourney to come to the registration Tuesday night."

What's Wrong With Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr. "He's Too Good," My Opponents Say

Yes, when a man runs for a public office his opponents throw lots of brickbats at him. They usually say what a bum and a horsethief he is. But my opponents can't find anything like that to say against me. So they have thought up a new one. 'Don't vote for Sylvan,' they are saying, 'because he's doing too good a job as City Commissioner in Bay St. Louis. We don't want to lose him.'

Well, I appreciate the compliments. I like to think I have done a good job in the City. I am not perfect, I know and I sincerely appreciate your confidence you have given me, but most of you folks know what a terrible mess the City government was in when I was elected. The City owed approximately $63,000.00 in unpaid bills. The employees had not been paid for six months, and had to go to a local bank and draw 80 percent of their salary and pay interest on it. interest on their own money they had earned. Slot Machines were all over town. The racketeers were in power.

We cleaned that up. Now the City does not owe a penny. We meet the payrolls, and have given the city employees three raises in six and a half years. There are no slot machines. Honest men prevail.

I am indeed proud of my part in better City government.

But now there are three things to consider:

FIRST—The City will not go to pot if I leave the government. The other two members of the Commission council are honest men who will carry on an efficient administration, and you can find another honest one to elect in my place.

SECOND—If the City can be run the right way, the sheriff's office can be run right, too. A Deputy can do an honest day's work and get an honest day's pay. He doesn't have to be a collection man for payoffs and a highway robber, chasing away visitors with speed traps.

THIRD—A man naturally aspires to a better job, if he feels he is qualified. The job is a bigger job. For me it will mean work, and more pay. Frankly, I welcome both. As City commissioner I make $3000 a month. As sheriff, I can earn $9000.00 a year, under the fee established by the State of Mississippi, honestly because that is the way I earn money. I will not shake down anybody except a payoff. I never have and I never will. That's my solemn promise.

So, you can see it is foolish for my opponents to say "Keep Sylvan in the City." You know why they want Sylvan in the Hall. It's because they want their share of the County Pie.

Some of them also say that I am not getting any money to be elected sheriff. That statement is correct for I do not have it. However, these same candidates are getting more money than they can honestly get the whole four years in office. In fact, the money some of my opponents are getting to be elected, I probably would not run for. Even this advertisement today was paid for me. Anyway, I don't think a candidate should buy a job. He should be elected on qualifications alone.

Take your pick. You can choose a man who is spending a small fortune to get elected. But you can choose a man who is carrying the load, and asking for your vote.

Or you can choose a man who is offering things to offer:

1. HONESTY AND EXPERIENCE in public office.
2. A REAL PLAN ON HOW THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE CAN WORK TO SERVE THE PEOPLE. NOT THE RACKETEERS. SHERIFF'S POCKETBOOK.

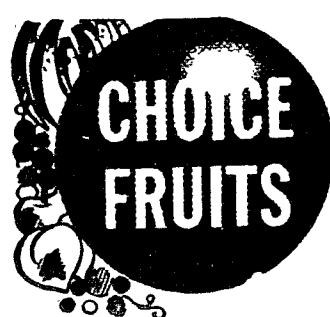

Elect Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. Sheriff of Hancock
